Proving that good things come in small packages, Allen & Heath's Zed10FX crams a bunch of awesomeness into a little (34 x 28 x 10cm) size and weighs in at just 3.3kg. It's ideal for small bar performance mixer, or in your video editing suite or home studio.

Aside from the 4 x XLR microphone inputs...here are a few choice features: "XLR main stereo output with inserts, comprehensive monitoring with headphones and separate monitor speaker outputs, 48V phantom power, DI level switching for sub mix and not least of all, the same digital effects algorithm as those used on A&H flagship digital consoles, but costing 150 times as much!"
